WORKING PAPERS

'Dividend Taxes, Corporate Choice, and Investment: Evidence from 2015 Tax Cut in South Korea,' with Shawn Saeyoul Park

Revise and Resubmit, Pacific-Basin Finance Journal

- South Korean firms were given the choice of opting into a dividend tax cut treatment.
- Firms expected to receive the tax cuts experienced positive stock return.
- The treated firms increased investments, which adheres to the old view of dividend taxes.
- The treated firms also experienced a significant decrease in cost of capital.

'Pre-IPO Market Trading and IPO Performance,' with Jiyeon Lee and Hyun-Han Shin

- Non-listed firms in Korea can choose to trade on a pre-IPO market (pre-market).
- Companies that traded on pre-markets are less underpriced at the time of IPO.
- Firms that traded on pre-markets demonstrate less return volatility ex post for about 50 days.
- The results are robust to a matching procedure.

'ESG Ratings and Corporate Investment: Evidence from an External Financial Shock Caused by COVID-19 in Korea,' 2021, with Kyooyoung Kwak (in Korean)

2nd Place Winner, Korea Corporate Governance Service Student Paper Competition
