Research Interest

My research focuses on supporting cross-functional AI teams in designing human-AI interactions. I build tools, methods, and boundary objects to help AI teams in (1) envisioning AI innovations collectively before deciding what AI system to build, and (2) facilitating collaboration and participation across disciplines and stakeholders in AI development processes.

Education

08/2018 - Carnegie Mellon University

Pittsburgh, PA, USA

06/2024 Ph.D. in Human-Computer Interaction

(expected) School of Computer Science

Advisors: John Zimmerman and James McCann

Concentration: Computer Science

09/2011 - Middle East Technical University

Ankara, Turkey

09/2014 M.Sc. in Industrial Design (Informatics track)

School of Architecture Graduated with Honors

09/2007 - Middle East Technical University

Ankara, Turkey

06/2011 B.ID. in Industrial Design School of Architecture Graduated with Honors

Experience

03/2020 - Accenture Technology Labs

(Remote)

02/2021 Research Lead on Sponsored Research

Led Accenture-CMU collaborative research project investigating how design practitioners might leverage AI when designing enterprise business applications. Conducted interviews and co-design workshops with cross-functional AI teams (20+ participants). Performed qualitative analysis of transcripts. Communicated results throughout the process. Project resulted in a CHI 2022 submission.

06/2011 - Designnobis

Ankara, Turkey

07/2018 Industrial Designer

Managed projects ranging from consumer electronics to assistive robots, microfluidics, transportation, lighting and toys. Carried out research, ideation, concept development, CAD modeling, prototyping and product realization via local and global manufacturers. Shipped 25+ products along with several patents and design awards. Worked in close collaboration with interdisciplinary teams of clients across scales, including tech start-ups, SMEs, institutions and corporates.
